4. Assessment of the Executive Council and committees

4.1. Executive council

The shared documents on the three themes voted at the congress have been created and will be released soon.

Public links (read only) and links for committees/associations.

4.2. Mobilisation committee

That CRUES grant $500 to CLAC for the printing of the Journal against NATO.

That CRUES request greater transparency from CLAC with the CRUES and ACSC teams on future actions.

That the CRUES support the ACSC (Anti-Colonial Student Convergence) in its mobilization campaign against NATO and the colonization of Palestine.

That CRUES reimburse up to $3,000 to the ACSC for organizing a broad student protest on November 22 and events related to the anti-colonial struggle (mainly the liberation of Palestine)

That CRUES make available to ACSC activists the CRUES offices for their meetings and work sessions

That this funding is conditional on the interasso identifying these groups as collaborating groups

That CRUES adopt a visual identity for the Palestine campaign below and make it available to all via the website:

<https://crues.org/materiel-de-mob/>

That CRUES adds Principle 4 of the visual identity for the Internships Salary campaign:

« Before publishing and sending posters, please send them to executif@crues.org for validation.
»

Considering the interest for social media displayed at the May Congress: « That the CRUES further invest in its social media (INSTAGRAM, FACEBOOK, etc.) by mandating its team to post at least two publications every week – following the same modalities as the ones used for the website – including one concerning the current mobilization campaign and that it systematically reposts, as far as possible, the content created by its associations that concerns a mobilization aiming to better the conditions of students or any other goal of the CRUES. »

Considering the small size of the executive and its prioritization of other issues

That the CRUES give access to social media to the information committee in order to fulfill the above mandate

That the adoption is conditional to the approval by the info committee and that following this adoption, the visual identity cannot be changed
